How to access the library’s resources

Start at the library’s website: ppcc.edu/library

You may now search across all types of resources with one search:

The “everything” tab will search the library catalog, the databases and eBooks. You can use the check boxes to refine your results before you hit the search button. Limiting to full text will eliminate any catalog items, since those are hard copy and not available to read online. You will need to re-

If you need a peer reviewed article, make sure it is selected.

Once you are in the main search page for Articles, make sure Full Text is checked. You can also select Peer Reviewed here as well.
You still have the option to search a specific type of resource.

- Use the Research Guides to find a variety of library and online sources related to your subject.
- Use the Article Databases to select a specific database to begin your search for articles in journals, magazines or newspapers.
