Welcome to the Adjunct Advancement Program!

The Adjunct Advancement Program (AAP) is one of four programs made available through PPCC's Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL). AAP encourages adjunct instructors to take advantage of professional development opportunities both inside and outside of the college to promote excellence in teaching while having an opportunity to increase your pay rate.

CETL Communication

Email is our primary way of communicating. As participants in the AAP, you will be responsible for reading your emails to ensure that you stay informed. CETL Email address is CETL@ppcc.edu. Documents are submitted to the AAP D2L Course Shell. The CETL LibGuide is a resource for more information.

Tracking PDUs

After attending professional development sessions, participants submit a Reflection and Tracking form. All submissions are reviewed for clarity and thoughtful responses. CETL is looking for reflection responses that include Reflection, Implementation, and Assessment (RIA) as they pertain to the professional development opportunity.

What is RIA?

- Reflection – what are the idea(s) learned through the PD opportunity.
- Implementation – what idea(s) do you plan to implement in your PPCC classroom.
- Assessment – how do you plan to assess (formally or informally) the idea(s) that were implemented.

CETL LibGuide

Full details about the program along with the required forms can be found in the CETL Lib Guide. The AAP Syllabus is located in the D2L course shell.
